COLLABORATIVE PROGRAM IN BOOK HISTORY AND PRINT CULTURE

BKS2001H - PRACTICUM IN BOOK HISTORY AND PRINT CULTURE

An individual project involving the use of primary sources, approved for academic credit by the Program Committee of BHPC, undertaken under the supervision of a member of the graduate faculty. For example, an exhibition catalogue, web site, analytical or critical bibliography, scholarly edition of a short work, or independent contribution to an ongoing research project.

A proposal must be submitted to the Program Committee for approval at least six weeks before the student registers in the course, ideally by Nov. 1 for a Winter course and April 1 for a Summer or Fall course. Attach Practicum Proposal to this form.

Instructions to Students Preparing Practicum Proposals

Describe (in not more than 500 words) the project you intend to undertake. Define scope and limits, outline methodology, identify the primary sources and collections you will be using, and state clearly the nature and extent of the final written work. It may be appropriate to break the project into sections and propose completion dates. Supply a brief annotated bibliography of important sources.

Notes for Supervisors

“Reading and/or research courses should involve as much reading and work as a normal seminar or other type of graduate course; written work should be a requirement of the course. Reading and/or research courses are subject to the grading practices policy in the same way as any other course.

“Only faculty holding a graduate appointment may direct a reading and/or research course, and they must hold a faculty appointment in the graduate unit where the course is being offered, normally in the student's home graduate unit. In general, both the student and instructor should be on campus and the frequency of their meeting should be consistent with other courses.

“Approval to take a reading and/or research course is given by the graduate unit.”
